

Tiger Properties appoints Kling Consult as Chief Consultant for Ozean Towers Project

Dubai – 5th of September 2008.

Tiger Properties, one of the region's longest running real estate development firms, has announced the appointment of German engineering consultants, Kling Consult, as chief consultant on the Ozean Towers project.

Per the contract, which was signed by Mr. Taha Mohammed, Chief Executive Officer of Tiger Properties and Gerhard Reichert, on behalf of their respective companies, Kling Consult will be responsible for all architectural drawings for the project, including plans, elevations, section details, perspective and other related drawings.

Kling will also be responsible for all the structural, landscape and electro-mechanical designs for the project, as well as for the arrangement of project specifications.

In addition to the design and planning of the project, Kling Consult will supervise and quality check the execution of the project, obtain the necessary permissions from the relevant authorities and do any revisions required to the plans in this regard.

The design of the project commenced in June of this year, and the project itself is scheduled for completion at the end of 2012.

Commenting on the decision to appoint Kling Consult on this project, Mr. Taha Mohammed, Chief Executive Officer of Tiger Properties said, "Kling Consult have a solid reputation in their field, we are supremely confident that this project will be a resounding success. We look forward to working with Kling Consult, and to delivering a finished product that not only meets but surpasses all expectations".

Kling Consult is one of the most respected engineering consulting firms in Western Europe and the Middle East, and has been involved in the development of a number of landmark projects in the UAE.

The main developer for the waterfront project will be Nakheel, the leading Dubai-based real estate developer in the world, and the main developer for the Palm trilogy project.
